Highlights of this week...

On Friday 10th February Willow Tree had their very own Gratitude Day. Gratitude is "an affirmation of goodness. We affirm that there are good things in the world, gifts and benefits we've received" Having gratitude reminds us of what is truly important, which is family, friends, health and security, among other things. Enabling us to have time to reflect and begin to understand gratitude, will in turn enhance well-being and deepen relationships.

During the day children have took part in a range of activities:

1. They learnt about significant jobs within our local community. Pupils researched these key jobs and created fact files/Google slides about them.
2. We read the book 'Gratitude is my Superpower' before reflecting on what we are thankful for. We shared these before creating our own gratitude wreath.
3. After learning about the important role key workers play within our local community, we decided to write thank you cards to add to our scrapbook. We then delivered our scrapbooks along with some flowers and chocolates.
4. We know the important roles our loved ones play in our lives. To show our thanks we wrote letters to them and well as making them a little gift.
